generated out of the Agency's briefing of approximately 12 Foreign Service officers last June who were graduates of the 1954 class of the National War College. State Department appreciation of the Agency's effort was such that the Department has requested the Agency to provide a similar briefing to its Foreign Service Inspectors.

2. In order to assist the Office of Training in fulfilling its requirements for operationally-experienced personnel to serve as instructors, the DD/P has provided a list of personnel who could be made available to OTR for this purpose.

3. Chief of the Intelligence School and a member of his staff made presentations on intelligence at the Naval Intelligence School at Anacostia. In addition, Mr. [REDACTED] of this same staff delivered a lecture on Soviet Communism at the Strategic Intelligence School and, together with [REDACTED] made a presentation on Soviet Intelligence at the Counter Intelligence Corps School, Fort Holabird, on 9 December.

4. The current three-week Basic Orientation Course has an enrollment of 125 students. This is the largest group participating in this course in the past three-year period.

5. The Office of Training is receiving admirable support from all foreign divisions of DD/P in the matter of furnishing material suitable for use in training. As a result of this support, the case bibliography of the Office of Training now consists of descriptions of 112 cases. These are being studied in order to select those which can be developed for use in instructional situations. In addition to providing case summaries to the Office of Training, DD/P divisions are also participating actively in DD/P debriefing programs which provide valuable current data on operational doctrine. This material is used by OTR in order to keep its training doctrine consistent with the best of current practices found to be effective by the Agency.

6. On 29 November, the Office of Training conducted a Round Table discussion with representatives of DD/P in order to identify and establish requirements on the subject of Interrogation. As a result of this discussion, the conclusion reached is that an intensive course on this subject should be developed and presented in April of 1955.
